THE GENEVIEVE M. CRITEL AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN UNDERGRADUATE COMPOSITION

This award honors outstanding writers and the compositions they create within English classes at Ohio State. Named posthumously for Dr. Genevieve Critel, whose dedication to undergraduate education and writing instruction was the basis for her scholarship and teaching, this award recognizes excellence in the areas of study in which Dr. Critel specialized: Composition Studies, Digital Media Studies & Digital Literacy Practices, Professional and Technical Communication, and Writing Center Theory and Practice. To be eligible for this award, the applicant must meet the following requirements: (1) have completed a composition as part of an Ohio State English course during the immediately previous Fall, Summer, or Spring semesters (essays completed during earlier semesters will not be considered; compositions of all types, from written essays to multimodal texts, are welcome), and (2) have been enrolled as an undergraduate at Ohio State during the semester in which the composition was completed (all majors are welcome to apply for this award). Only one composition may be submitted per student. The recipient of this award is recognized during the Department of English's annual awards ceremony in April and receives a $300 scholarship. Note that any group compositions will receive one $300 scholarship, which will be equally divided among the group's members.
