SELECTIVE ADMISSIONS TO THIS CONCENTRATION

Students interested in the English major – Creative Writing Concentration (CW) should note that admission to this concentration is selective. Information sessions about the CW concentration and the application and admissions process will be held periodically throughout the academic year. Students should contact their English Advisor for details about upcoming info sessions.

Students may apply for admission to the CW concentration once they have completed a 2000-level creative writing workshop and are enrolled (and currently completing) a 3000-level workshop. To apply for admission, students should email samples of their best creative writing to Undergraduate Program Manager Katie Stanutz (stanutz.3@osu.edu) by the sixth Friday of the term (fall, spring, summer). In this email, students should explain their interest in the CW concentration, what creative writing classes they have taken and who their instructors were, and provide brief descriptions (1 – 2 sentences) of their attached writing samples. Writing samples should not exceed 20 pages in length. The CW Concentration committee will then review the student’s application and may request to meet with them before determining whether to admit the student to the CW concentration. Students who are not admitted to the CW concentration will work with their advisor to ensure that their creative writing courses can be used toward requirements on another English major concentration area.

ENROLLING IN 4000-LEVEL CREATIVE WRITING WORKSHOPS

Admission to the 4000-level creative writing workshops (i.e., 4565, 4566 and 4568) is by permission of the instructor. Students who have been admitted to the CW concentration and who wish to enroll in a 4000-level creative writing workshop in an upcoming term should email the faculty member assigned to teach that workshop as soon as possible. Students should send the faculty member creative writing samples along with a list of the creative writing courses the student has completed.

HOW TO GRADUATE WITH RESEARCH DISTINCTION IN ENGLISH

Students planning to pursue research distinction in English will complete at least 4 credit hours of English 4999 (4999H for honors students), the course number assigned for work on undergraduate theses, in addition to the 39 hours required for the major. To graduate with research distinction in English students must meet the following requirements at the time of their graduation: (a) have completed 60 graded hours at Ohio State, (b) have at least a 3.0 cumulative grade point average (note: the GPA requirement for honors students is 3.4), and have successfully defended their thesis during an oral examination. Information about the thesis process and requirements can be found at <http://ascadvising.osu.edu/node/192>. Honors students should consult the information and requirements available at <http://aschonors.osu.edu/honors/research-thesis>.

All English majors are encouraged to consider completing a thesis under the direction of a faculty advisor(s). Thesis projects may involve the drafting of a scholarly research paper; the production of a novel, set of short stories, or collection of poems; the analysis of narratives and/or other qualitative data collected from a particular cultural or regional community; and/or the creation of a digital media artifact. Students are encouraged to talk with members of the English faculty and their English Undergraduate Advisors, as early as possible in their undergraduate careers, if they are interested in developing a thesis project or would like more information about the thesis process and requirements.
